WRITTEN QUESTIONS

Questions already placed on the Order Paper
are published each Wednesday

- (63) Mrs. Fournier (Marie-Victorin) – 3 June 2019
To the Minister of Health and Social Services

My riding office was contacted concerning the coverage of hearing aids for retired persons who are not covered by a private insurance plan.

Currently, the Régie de l'assurance maladie du Québec's Hearing Devices Program covers hearing aids according to certain eligibility requirements. Coverage of a first device is guaranteed for individuals who do not have a private insurance plan and whose average hearing loss is of at least 25 or 35 decibels, depending on the category.

However, the Régie will cover a second device only if a person is working, studying or in the process of getting a job. This restriction is akin to systemic discrimination of retirees and seniors who do not have private insurance coverage. In addition, many of them live under precarious financial conditions and only have a basic pension or benefits.

Will the Minister pledge to:

- Review the Hearing Devices Program and extend coverage as regards providing financial assistance to cover a second hearing device for seniors 65 and over who do not have private insurance coverage?

(64) Mrs. Fournier (Marie-Victorin) – 3 June 2019

To the Minister of Labour, Employment and Social Solidarity

Considering that telework reduces commuting and its negative effects, particularly traffic congestion and pollution arising from vehicle GHG emissions;

Considering that telework lowers businesses' costs of maintaining physical work locations and that financial gains can accordingly be achieved;

Considering that telework facilitates work-family balance by offering households greater time management flexibility;

Will the Minister pledge to:

- Undertake a ministerial reflection to evaluate all measures and programs that may be implemented to support the development of telework?
- Undertake a legislative update of the Act respecting labour standards to integrate the telework reality into the basic legal framework for businesses and employees?
- Undertake the promotion of telework as a solution to address the three aforementioned issues?

(65) Mr. Ouellette (Chomedey) – 3 June 2019

To the Minister of Finance

Last 8 May, I clearly asked the Minister of Finance to confirm to us that the AMF would investigate Prometic as soon as possible. He admitted that he was concerned by the dilution of stakes held by certain shareholders; he told us that he considered the matter important and he confirmed to us that the AMF was active in this matter and was doing its work. The Minister repeated in the House that the AMF was investigating, that it was currently working on the case.

I found out this week that the AMF decided to close the case. So, on 8 May, the AMF is investigating and 20 days later, the investigation is completed, though the list of new twists keeps growing in this matter that is characterized by lack of transparency, on the part of both Prometic and AMF executives.

The former Prometic CEO, who was fired in December 2018, was a victim of two suspicious fires under investigation, the new CEO has moved to Europe and announced that several positions will also be transferred to Europe, members of the administrative board were forced to resign, and the list grows longer every day. There's something fishy about this, and if the AMF is not able to see that, then I seriously question the AMF's ability to take this matter in hand.

First, will the Minister clearly tell us how many documents were analyzed and how many witnesses AMF investigators met with, which justified terminating the investigation after 20 days?

Since the Government left no stone unturned regarding the case of Air Transat to keep its activities in Québec, it seems relevant to involve, in the case of Prometic, the Financial Markets Administrative Tribunal. Billions of dollars are about to leave Québec through a purchaser established in the Cayman Islands, and, contrary to AMF representatives, many legal advisors think that sections 263 to 265 of the Securities Act should be enforced.

Accordingly, I ask the Minister to seek a second opinion on the AMF's decision and provide an independent legal opinion on whether the AMF truly considered all the possibilities that the current Act allows for.

(66) Mr. LeBel (Rimouski) – 3 June 2019
To the Minister of Health and Social Services

As you know, Doctr is a mobile application that gives access to Québec's emergency room occupancy rates as well as emergency room wait times in real time in the rest of Canada. Moreover, Doctr provides information on availabilities in walk-in clinics across Canada.

However, when we use the application to find out the wait times in Québec establishments, we get the following message: "The Québec Government currently refuses to provide Doctr with the required data to estimate wait times. This is why ER wait times are available only in other Canadian provinces. Please consider raising this issue with your local Government officer."

Several citizens approached me expressing their hope that Québec will also provide the required data. We have difficulty understanding why the rest of Canada has access to this type of information, while Québec patients are denied access thereto.

My questions are the following:

- Can the Minister of Health tell us if there is a particular reason why we do not have access to this data?
- Does the Government intend to provide applications such as Doctr with the required information to help in assessing wait times in our emergency rooms, considering that this would help citizens choose among different medical points of service based on the wait times indicated?

67) Mr. Gaudreault (Jonquière) – 3 June 2019
To the Minister of Health and Social Services

According to the Association pulmonaire du Québec, the number of persons with sleep apnea is underestimated, for this health problem is under-diagnosed by doctors. However, in Canada, more than one adult in four (26%) reported symptoms associated with a high risk of having or developing obstructive sleep apnea.

Furthermore, in Québec, many of these persons cannot be treated, mainly owing to the price of the continuous positive airway pressure machines that, with the supervision and training that patients require, may cost anywhere between $1500 and $3000.

At the present time, there is no specific tax credit for persons who must purchase this type of machine. Yet, in certain Canadian provinces as well as in other parts of the world, the cost of these machines and their accessories, which must be replaced annually, is totally or partially reimbursed. This is the case in Ontario, Saskatchewan, Manitoba, France, the United States, the United Kingdom, Belgium and Spain, in particular.

My question is the following:

- Can the Minister of Health tell us whether the Government intends to help persons with sleep apnea – often persons in need –, by offering a partial or total reimbursement of continuous positive airway pressure machines?

68) Mr. LeBel (Rimouski) – 3 June 2019

To the Minister of Municipal Affairs and Housing

Before 1983, there were no requirements regarding the energy efficiency of buildings. Fifty-six percent of housing units were built before 1980. More than half of tenants are therefore paying an energy bill that is too high.

Moreover, as it is, owing to regulations, an owner must wait four decades before getting a return on his investment when he renovates his apartment building, which is far from being an incentive.

During the election campaign, the current CAQ Government had not only announced the renewal, but also the improvement of the program RénoVert, a very efficient program that encouraged a growing number of apartment building owners to renovate without having to resort to undeclared work.

Unfortunately, the Government instead chose to withdraw the program RénoVert, under the pretext that the program RénoClimat was much the same. In reality, RénoClimat is difficult to access, costly – owing to the required tests – and in no way curtails undeclared work.

My question is the following:

- Does the Minister of Housing and Municipal Affairs intend to bring back and improve the program RénoVert, as promised by her Government?
