Government Bills

Report Stage

The Assembly took into consideration the report from the Committee on Institutions on its clause-by-clause consideration of Bill 86, An Act respecting the demise of the Crown, together with the amendment transmitted by Mr. Zanetti (Jean-Lesage).

This amendment was declared out of order because it introduces a new principle into the bill. The proposed amendment relates to Members' oaths, whereas the bill deals with the consequences of the sovereign's death on the continuity of Québec institutions.

The Chair noted that the amendment proposed by the Member is already the subject of a separate bill before the House. This is a telling clue that the amendment itself is a principle that can be the subject of an independent and stand-alone bill.

The Chair also recalled that negating an amendment during clause-by-clause consideration, without its receivability having been raised, has no effect on the Chair as, under Standing Order 252, the Chair is seized de facto of assessing the receivability of proposed amendments.
