THE ROLE OF CMAs

To create value within organizations using an integrated and systematic approach to strategic and financial management.

MISSION OF THE QUEBEC CMA ORDER

To ensure the protection of the public and leadership of the CMA profession through the enforcement of high standards intended to enhance the performance of organizations. To do so, the Order monitors the practice of the profession, promotes its value and strengthens its influence, serves as a reference for members and employers, and supports its members in the development of their competencies.

OUR VALUES

Integrity, excellence, entrepreneurship and adaptability.

Since 1989, Élite CMA magazine has chronicled the remarkable development of management accounting. From putting the spotlight on the most prominent figures of the profession, reporting on the major events that have marked our memories, and featuring the advertising campaigns that have shaped the CMA brand to highlighting the record-breaking achievements of the profession, Élite CMA has made a significant contribution to developing a strong feeling of belonging and pride among members.

After acting as the profession's beacon for nearly a quarter of a century for members, the academic world, and the business community alike, the Order's magazine was published for the very last time a few months before the unification of the accounting profession became a reality, thereby turning a new page in history.

Note to readers

Please note that due to the unification on May 16 of Quebec's three accounting orders, which now form the Ordre des comptables professionnels agréés (CPA) du Québec, fiscal 2011-2012 of the Quebec CMA Order covers the period from April 1, 2011 to May 15, 2012, the day before the law establishing the Quebec CPA Order came into force. As a result, the information published in this report covers both the period of April 1, 2011 to March 31, 2012, the common date of the end of the fiscal year of most professional orders, and the period from April 1 to May 15, 2012.

MESSAGE FROM THE CHAIR OF THE BOARD AND THE PRESIDENT-EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Charles Auger, FCMA
Chair of the Board

François Renaud, FCMA
President-Executive Director

The fifth attempt at unifying the three accounting orders was successful, making 2012 the year in which the new Ordre des comptables professionnels agréés du Québec was founded.

After the four previous failed attempts in the last 30 years, the proposal set in motion at the end of 2010, at the instigation of the Office des professions du Québec, revealed to be much more promising and feasible, as it was supported by the government's desire to make Quebec a forerunner in Canada. Mission accomplished, both for the lawmakers and the leaders of the three accounting orders, who did everything they could, within very tight deadlines, so that the proposal would become a reality and solid foundations would be in place for the new order.

At every step of this historic undertaking, CMAs showed a great deal of open-mindedness and maturity. They did not hesitate, despite their attachment to the CMA designation and profession, to look forward and make the future of the accounting profession as a whole their top priority. At a time when the practice of the profession is tied more and more to the evolution of the global economy, when standards are increasingly set by international organizations and when the unique attributes of the three accounting designations are becoming less distinct, we are convinced that the unification of the accounting profession will allow it to prosper and stand out, both in Canada and abroad.

Despite the incredible energy that went in to this proposal, the Order's achievements in the last year must not be overlooked. By continuing to implement its strategic plan, the Order also outdid itself in many regards.

First of all, recruitment shattered all records, with 661 new candidates to the profession, an increase of at least 10% compared to recent years, which were also vintage years. This certainly reflects the result of the concerted efforts of all the Order's teams, and especially recruitment, communications and marketing.

Surprising, intelligent and eye-catching: three words that describe the advertising campaign that targeted the student market this year. As the product of structured thinking about the CMA brand and its attributes, the campaign ran along the lines of the new management accounting slogan, Mpact, Mpower, Mpress, which was used as the name for the new Facebook page, as well as a clever promotional item, cell phone screen cleaner wipes. This brand also inspired the promotional campaign of the CMA and CMA-MBA Executive Programs, which was a real success.

Dare: This has been the Order's advertising catch phrase for over 20 years. The least that can be said is that this formula hit the bull's eye once again this year by effectively grabbing the attention of students and setting the profession apart. Combined with a catchy and perfectly integrated ad offensive, a profusion of activities ensured that the profession had a noteworthy presence on campuses and roused student interest.

Our performance in satisfying our clientele is once again a source of pride and a clear sign that the Order's team truly doubled its efforts this year so that the unification would not unfold to the detriment of members and candidates to the profession. In fact, in the 16 years that it has surveyed its clientele, the score of 89.1% received by the Order this year is just barely its second best score, after 2009-2010, when it notched its record score of 89.3%.

Once again last year, Quebec candidates stood out in all of the examinations dotting their path toward the CMA designation, including the CMA Entrance Examination, the Case Examination, and the Report to the Board of Directors, which ends the Strategic Leadership Program (SLP).

Thus, Mena Beshay, a graduate of McGill University, finished first in Quebec and Canada with an almost perfect score of 99% on the CMA Entrance Examination, for which 2,457 candidates sat in Canada in 2011. As for the 442 candidates from the SLP who sat for the Case Examination in Quebec, their pass rate reached 89.3%, almost two percentage points higher than the rest of Canada.

Three graduates of Université Laval won the top honours during this examination, with outstanding scores of 97%, 96% and 94%. Finally, 473 candidates to the profession, which is the largest cohort of candidates since 2001 to take this examination, passed the decisive phase of the SLP and made their presentation before a fictitious board of directors. With a combined pass rate (written examination and oral presentation) of 98.7% for the candidates on the regular path and 100% for candidates on the executive path, 468 candidates have thus completed the final step of the accreditation process. As per tradition, these new members were honoured at two large events.

Accordingly, the graduates of CMA and CMA-MBA Executive Programs and the new recipients of the title of Fellow graced the red carpet in front of some 320 people at the CMA Ambassadors Gala held in November. The evening brilliantly crowned the success and achievements of these great ambassadors, who play an instrumental role in increasing the influence of the CMA profession.

As for the graduates of the CMA and CMA-MBA Executive Programs, in 2011, 85 joined the group of high-level financial managers who have opted for this exclusive combination in the executive training market. This is the largest cohort of graduates since the creation of the programs about twelve years ago, which shows that they have a prime position in the market and meet the real needs of financial managers and employers. Alain Paquet, Minister for Finance, also attended the Gala to welcome the CMAs and salute the perseverance and determination of the 85 new graduates.

The three candidates to the profession who finished first in Quebec on the 2011 Case Examination: Martine Vincent, a cost analyst at the Centre de services partagés du Québec, Amélie Simard, a socio-economic development research officer at the Quebec Ministry of Finance, and Stéphanie Desrosiers, an MBA student specializing in accounting at Université Laval.

Like every year, a large crowd of some 1,200 people convened at the Palais des congrès de Montréal in the spring to celebrate in grand style the entry into the profession of 359 new CMAs from the regular path. Under the honorary presidency of Suzanne Blanchet, President and Chief Executive Officer of the Cascades Tissue Group, the ceremony was followed by a very festive gala featuring the performances of artists from the Opéra de Montréal.

Whether they have just joined the profession or are already accomplished CMAs, many members, in one way or another, actively contributed to the culmination of the lengthy process that now charts the future path of the accounting profession. We sincerely thank them for putting their shoulders to the wheel and for showing solidarity with the objective that we had set, in the greater interest of the entire accounting profession and the influence of management accounting.

We would also like to express our gratitude to the entire permanent team, as well as to all of the artisans and close collaborators of the Order, and more specifically the members of the Board of Directors, without whom the amount of energy required for such an achievement would have been impossible to gather.

Proud of what has been accomplished, we are grateful for the exemplary support and solidarity that the Order's members and staff have shown to us. We invite them now to continue to use their enthusiasm, their leadership and their creativity, all attributes specific to the CMA brand, to serve the development of the accounting profession, which, needless to say, will definitely face some major challenges.

DISCIPLINARY COUNCIL

The Disciplinary Council was established under section 116 of the Professional Code and is assigned to hear all complaints brought against individuals who may have violated the provisions of the Professional Code, the CMA Code of Ethics or the Order's bylaws when they were members. The Disciplinary Council sits in divisions made up of a chair, an attorney appointed by the government, and two members of the CMA profession appointed by the Board of Directors.

During fiscal 2011-2012, the Committee held four hearings. It heard four complaints, all from the syndic. The nature of each of these complaints was the following:

- 1 Having impeded the investigation of a syndic. Having submitted trivial and unjustified complaints to the Disciplinary Council. Having acted in a way that is derogatory to the honour and dignity of the profession.
- 2 Having performed services without having the required competencies. Having failed to comply with generally accepted accounting principles. Having made misrepresentations. Having produced false documents. Having been in a conflict of interests. Having failed to indicate that he was a certified management accountant while signing as a professional accountant. Having failed to report to the Order that he was running an accounting firm.
- 3 Having acted in a way that is derogatory to the honour and dignity of the profession. Having failed to notify the secretary of the Order that he was the subject of a court decision.
- 4 Having failed to take out professional liability insurance. Having failed to answer the correspondence of the secretary of the Professional Inspection Committee.

The Disciplinary Council rendered three decisions, of which two were rendered within a period of 90 days. It delivered the following verdicts:

	Number of cases
Respondent found guilty	3
Verdicts on guilt
Fine	3
Striking from the membership roll	2
Permit revocations	0

During fiscal 2011-2012, no decisions rendered by the Disciplinary Council were appealed before the Professional Tribunal. Furthermore, no cases were recommended to the Board of Directors, which also did not render any decisions as a result of a recommendation.

Between April 1 and May 15, 2012, the Disciplinary Council received no other complaint and has not held any other meetings.

Committee Chair

ILLEGAL PRACTICE AND UNLAWFUL USE OF THE DESIGNATION

In accordance with the resolutions adopted by the Executive Committee, the Order authorized proceedings before the Court of Quebec against Benoît Cloutier and Normand Chartrand for unlawful use of the CMA designation, with claims for the penalties provided by law.

The Executive Committee also authorized proceedings before the Court of Quebec for illegal practice of public accountancy, with claims for the penalties provided by law, against Lisette Sigouin (compilation engagement) and Marcel Houle (review engagement), both found guilty of illegally practicing public accountancy and sentenced by the Superior Court to pay fines of $1,500 and $6,000 respectively.

Finally, during the year, judgments were rendered in the cases of Alejandra Echevarria, Line Lamothe, Patrick Provost, Eric Sonogo and Richard Tardif. These individuals were sentenced to pay fines of $17,000, $1,500, $20,000, $6,000 and $12,000 respectively.

Between April 1 and May 15, 2012, no new proceedings were instituted and no judgments were rendered in the matters under review.

INDEMNITY FUND

Created in accordance with the Regulation respecting the indemnity fund of the Order, the fund designed to reimburse claimants for funds or property used by a member for purposes other than those for which claimants had entrusted them to the member received no claims in fiscal 2011-2012 or between April 1 and May 15, 2012.

The maximum amount that the fund can reimburse one or all claimants who have submitted a claim against a member is $75,000.

EDUCATION COMMITTEE

The Education Committee is an advisory committee created under section 184 of the Professional Code that is assigned to examine, while respecting the respective complementary competencies of the Order, the universities and the Minister of Education, issues related to the quality of education of certified management accountants. Quality of education can be understood to mean education that adequately covers the professional skills required to practice the profession of certified management accountant.

As part of the role entrusted to it, the Committee developed a work plan in which all components of the education and accreditation process of the Order are scheduled for review. Since September 2002, the Committee has filed seven reports with the Board of Directors of the Order. These reports discussed the CMA Strategic Leadership Program, undergraduate programs leading to the CMA accreditation process, the CMA Entrance Examination, the practical work experience, the CMA and CMA-MBA Executive Programs, the alternative pathways giving access to the CMA permit, and finally, the accreditation of the university programs by CMA Canada.

In 2011-2012, the Education Committee held four meetings in which it first completed its review of the entire process giving access to the practice of public accountancy. Then, the Committee considered the main issues related to the national certification process, particularly the Professional Education Program giving access to the chartered professional accountant profession. The Committee did not hold any meetings between April 1 and May 15, 2012.

Eduardo Schiehl, FCMA
Committee Chair

CONTINUING EDUCATION

In the second year of implementing the Regulation concerning compulsory continuing education for CMAs, considerable efforts were made to improve the training tools and activities offered to members to help them comply with the Regulation. As a result, over 730 training activities, including 55 created by the Order, were offered by the Order and its 39 partners and displayed in the virtual and paperback catalogues of training activities made available to members.

Out of the 7,583 active members subject to the Regulation, 361 were granted an exemption under section 14. In addition, the Order has not penalized any members for failing to comply with the requirements of the Regulation at the end of this year.

During the year, the Executive Committee analyzed two requests to review a decision rendered by the Continuing Education Committee.

At the end of the period from April 1 to May 15, 2012, 7,137 active members were subject to the Regulation and 56 were granted an exemption under section 14. The Order did not penalize any members for failing to comply with the requirements under the Regulation and the Executive Committee did not analyze any requests to review a decision rendered by the Continuing Education Committee during that period.

Furthermore, since April 1, 2010, members who practice public accountancy have also been subject to the Regulation respecting compulsory continuing education for certified management accountants who hold a public accountancy permit. These members are required to spend at least 60 hours of specially structured continuing education, including at least 15 hours per reference year, in connection with public accountancy. These requirements are part of the general requirements of the Regulation respecting the compulsory continuing education of certified management accountants of Quebec. The first reference period runs from April 1, 2010 to March 31, 2013.

The number of members who hold a public accountancy permit and are subject to this Regulation was 22 at the end of 2011-2012 and during the period of April 1 to May 15, 2012. None of these members received an exemption under the Regulation or was subject to a decision of the Executive Committee of the Order.

PROFESSIONAL LIABILITY INSURANCE

At the end of the year, there were 579 members in public practice: 476 full-time and 103 part-time. Of these members in public practice, 486 members took out liability insurance with various insurers and 93 are covered by liability insurance held by their employer.

The amount of the coverage must be at least $250,000 per claim and $500,000 for all claims against a member during the period of coverage.

In the case of a partnership of members, the amount of coverage per claim and for all claims made must be at least $250,000 multiplied by the number of partner members or employees of the partnership up to $1,000,000 per period of coverage. The same applies in the case of members who employ other members.

In addition, 67 members submitted a request for authorization to practice in a joint-stock company or a limited liability partnership and 54 of them hold excess liability insurance under the Regulation respecting the practice of the profession of certified management accountant within a partnership or joint-stock company covering their company for $1,000,000. Members have until October 5, 2012 to meet the requirements of the Regulation.

As of May 15, 2012, there were 578 members in public practice: 476 full-time and 102 part-time. Of that number, 485 members took out liability insurance with various insurers and 93 were covered by the liability insurance held by their employer.

Between April 1 and May 15, 2012, 6 members submitted a request for authorization to practice in a joint-stock company or a limited liability partnership and 1 of them hold excess liability insurance in accordance with the Regulation.

PROFESSIONAL INSPECTION COMMITTEE

Under the Professional Code, the mission of the Professional Inspection Committee is to supervise the practice of the profession by inspecting the records, books, registers, facilities and equipment of CMA members. The Annual General Surveillance Plan carried out by the Committee is intended to maintain the high standards of the profession and ensure that CMA members offer services of the highest quality to the public. To carry out its mission, the Committee is formed by a steady team of nine inspectors.

During fiscal 2011-2012, the Committee held four meetings.

Objectives of the General Surveillance Plan of the Profession

The 2011-2012 General Surveillance Plan of the Profession planned 74 inspection visits to members in public practice. It also provided that the members to be inspected would be selected on the basis of a representative regional breakdown and that the following criteria would also be taken into consideration:

- > priority given to members in public practice who are self-employed;
- > members who have not been inspected in three or more years;
- > salaried members in public practice;
- > any other member whom the Committee may deem it appropriate to inspect.

Activity report

The main activities of the Professional Inspection Committee are summarized in the table below.

The inspectors met with both members in full-time and part-time public practice and made 80 inspection visits.

EQUIVALENCE RECOGNITION

Other activities

Furthermore, within the framework of activities to support and improve the skills of members, inspectors answered the questions of members who called on the Bureau de renseignements et d'information à l'intention des membres en cabinet de services professionnels during the year.

Finally, the Committee kept abreast of all opportunities to improve inspection tools and member support. Accordingly, a review committee composed of a few inspectors was formed in order to review the existing tools used and inspection process.

The Committee did not hold any meetings or conduct any inspections between April 1 and May 15, 2012.

Réjean Champagne, CMA auditor
Committee Chair

The Equivalence Evaluation Committee was created under section 93 (c.1) of the Professional Code. It is assigned to study diploma and training equivalence requests and decide on them.

The Committee must evaluate the prior learning of anyone who has a Canadian or foreign diploma in accounting or any other management-related field and wishes to begin the CMA accreditation process. The Committee decides which training program must be completed, where applicable, so that applicants attain a level of knowledge and skills equal to that of a holder of a diploma recognized by regulation and that corresponds to the current level of education programs. Thus, the Committee ensures that anyone who begins the CMA accreditation process has first completed a training program that complies with the CMA Competency Map.

In accordance with the regulations governing the recognition of diploma and training equivalence, applicants may request a review by another body within 30 days of a decision rendered by the Equivalence Evaluation Committee. This appeal body has a period of 60 days from the receipt of the review request to issue its final verdict. In order to be efficient and meet this deadline, the Executive Committee of the Order is the body in charge of reviewing and deciding on review requests.

Breakdown of requests for recognition of training equivalence

April 1, 2011 to March 31, 2012	Training acquired outside Canada	Training acquired in Canada outside Quebec	Training acquired in Quebec	Total
Requests received	145	8	111	264
Requests that were not the subject of a decision at the end of the period	1	0	1	2
Fully accepted requests	0	1	7	8
Partially accepted requests specifying the training that must be acquired	144	7	103	254
Partially accepted requests not specifying the training that must be acquired	0	0	0	0
Rejected requests	0	0	0	0
April 1 to May 15, 2012	Training acquired outside Canada	Training acquired in Canada outside Quebec	Training acquired in Quebec	Total
Requests received	15	0	20	35
Requests that were not the subject of a decision at the end of the period	0	0	0	0
Fully accepted requests	0	0	0	0
Partially accepted requests specifying the training that must be acquired	15	0	20	35

It should be noted that since no diploma or designation issued outside Quebec and Canada can attest to training and competencies that are perfectly equivalent to those required to practice the CMA profession, all diploma equivalence requests submitted to the Order are treated as training equivalence requests. As a result, no equivalence requests for diplomas issued outside Quebec and Canada have been accepted or rejected, either fully or partially.

However, according to the Regulation respecting legal authorizations to practice as a certified management accountant outside Quebec that give access to the permit issued by the Ordre professionnel des comptables en management accrédités du Québec, those who are legally authorized to practice the CMA profession outside Quebec but within Canada do not have to submit a diploma equivalence request to obtain a permit to practice the profession in Quebec.

Committee Chair

REVIEW COMMITTEE

Created under section 123.3 of the Professional Code, the Review Committee is assigned to review the Office of the Syndic's decision not to file a complaint concerning a member before the Disciplinary Council, upon the request of a complainant.

The Review Committee must render an opinion after reviewing the whole case and all evidence submitted by the Office of the Syndic and hearing, if the Committee deems it necessary, the syndic or the assistant syndic and the person who requested the inquiry.

During fiscal 2011-2012 and between April and May 15, 2012, the Committee did not receive any review requests.

Christiane Martinez
Committee Secretary

SYNDIC AND ARBITRATION OF ACCOUNTS

The Office of the Syndic is assigned to investigate complaints against CMAs who may have violated the Professional Code, the CMA Code of Ethics and the Order's other bylaws. The syndic is supported in this role by two assistant syndics.

During 2011-2012, 21 cases, involving 19 members, were opened. The Office of the Syndic filed a complaint with the Disciplinary Council in 2 of the opened cases, while in 13 of the cases that were dealt with, the syndic decided that there was no basis for filing a complaint. No cases were settled by conciliation by the Office of the Syndic. At the end of the period, 8 cases were still under review.

Between April 1 and May 15, 2012, the syndic decided that there was no basis for filing a complaint in 6 of the opened cases. No cases were settled by conciliation by the Office of the Syndic. As of May 15, 2012, 12 files were still under review.

Furthermore, in 2011-2012, 23 requests for information about ethics, advertising and the professional practice of CMA members were made to the Office of the Syndic by telephone or e-mail, while 4 requests were received between April 1 and May 15, 2012.

During 2011-2012, one request for conciliation of a bill of costs was received and settled. No conciliation requests for a bill of costs were received between April 1 and May 15, 2012.

FINANCIAL STATEMENT

Management's responsibility with regard to the financial report

The financial statements of the Ordre des comptables en management accrédités du Québec (Ordre des CMA) and other information contained in this annual report are the responsibility of the management of the Ordre des comptables professionnels agréés du Québec (Ordre des CPA). The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles. Where necessary, management has made judgments and estimates regarding the consequences of certain events and transactions, while considering materiality. The financial and statistical information contained in the remainder of the report is consistent with the information included in the financial statements.

As part of its responsibilities, the management of the Ordre des CPA maintains a system of internal accounting controls designed to provide reasonable assurance that assets are safeguarded and that transactions are accurately recorded on a timely basis, are properly approved and result in reliable financial statements.

The Board of Directors of the Ordre des CPA carries out its responsibilities with regard to the financial statements mainly through its Audit Committee. This Committee reviews the annual financial statements and other information contained in the annual report and recommends them to the Board for approval. The Audit Committee meets periodically with the management of the Ordre des CPA and the independent auditor, and reports to the Board.

The financial statements have been audited by the auditors of the Ordre des CMA who were engaged by the Order's Board of Directors and whose appointment was ratified at the Annual General Meeting of the Ordre des CMA.

Independent Auditor's Report

To the members of the Ordre des comptables professionnels agréés du Québec

I have audited the accompanying financial statements of the Ordre des comptables en management accrédités du Québec, which comprise the statement of financial position as at May 15, 2012, and the statements of operations, changes in fund balances and cash flows for the period of 13.5 months then ended, and a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility My responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on my audit. I conducted my audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that I comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

I believe that the audit evidence I have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for my audit opinion.

Opinion In my opinion, the financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Ordre des comptables en management accrédités du Québec as at May 15, 2012, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the period of 13.5 months then ended in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles.

Emphasis of Matter I draw attention to Note 2 to the financial statements, which describes the subsequent event, i.e. the unification of the accounting profession in Quebec. My opinion is not qualified in respect to this matter.

Notes to Financial Statements

for the period of 13.5 months ended May 15, 2012

① Status and nature of activities

The Ordre des comptables en management accrédités du Québec (CMA) is a professional Order with a reserved title whose primary function is to ensure the protection of the public. As such, it is responsible for issuing permits to practice to candidates who meet the necessary conditions, maintaining the Membership Roll, supervising the practice of the profession and detecting unlawful practice. It uses the services of The Society of Management Accountants of Canada (SMAC). These consolidated financial statements report the activities of the Order and its regional chapters.

The Order is incorporated as a not-for-profit organization under the Professional Code and is considered as such under the Income Tax Act.

② Subsequent event: unification of the accounting profession in Quebec

In September 2011, the Ordre des comptables agréés du Québec (Ordre des CA), the Ordre des comptables généraux accrédités du Québec (Ordre des CGA) and the Ordre des comptables en management accrédités du Québec (Ordre des CMA) adopted a proposal to unify the accounting profession in Quebec aimed at creating the Ordre des comptables professionnels agréés du Québec (Ordre des CPA). On March 28, 2012, Bill 61 was tabled to establish the Ordre des CPA. The resulting Chartered Professional Accountants Act was assented to by the Quebec National Assembly on May 16, 2012. Under the new Act, the Ordre des CPA succeeds to the rights and obligations of the Ordre des CA, the Ordre des CGA and the Ordre des CMA. On May 16, 2012, the net assets of the Ordre des CA, the Ordre des CGA and the Ordre des CMA were combined and became the net assets of the Ordre des CPA.

Pursuant to Section 66 of the Chartered Professional Accountants Act, the 2011-2012 fiscal period of the Ordre des comptables en management accrédités du Québec covers 13 and a half months, i.e. from April 1, 2011 to May 15, 2012. The 2010-2011 fiscal period, the figures of which are presented for comparison purposes, covers 12 months, i.e. from April 1, 2010 to March 31, 2011.

③ Significant accounting policies

Fund accounting The Order uses fund accounting in its financial statements. The operations and activities are reported in the following funds:

General fund The general fund includes the assets, liabilities, revenues and expenditures related to the activities of the Order and its regional chapters, other than the operations pertaining to the indemnity fund below.

Indemnity fund The indemnity fund, for which the net assets must be maintained at a minimum balance of $75,000, is intended to reimburse any funds or property used by a member of the Order for purposes other than those which were entrusted to the member acting in his or her professional capacity.

Use of estimates The preparation of financial statements in conformity with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the financial statements and accompanying notes. Significant estimates include the accounting of depreciation and amortization of capital assets and intangible assets, and the assessment of accrued liabilities. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Financial instruments Financial assets and liabilities are recognized initially at their fair value and are classified based on the purpose for which they were acquired or issued and according to their characteristics and their designation by the Order as follows:

Cash	Held for trading
Short-term investments	Held for trading
Accounts receivable	Loans and receivables
Long-term investments	Held to maturity
Accounts payable and accrued liabilities	Other liabilities

Financial assets held for trading are carried in the statement of financial position at fair value with changes in fair value recognized in the statement of operations.

Financial assets held to maturity are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments and fixed maturities that the Order's management has the positive intention and ability to hold to maturity. These assets are carried at amortized cost, using the effective interest rate method, less a provision for impairment, if any.

The loans and receivables are carried at amortized cost, using the effective interest rate method, less a provision for impairment, if any.

The other liabilities are carried at amortized cost using the effective interest rate method.

Transactions costs for each category of financial instruments are expensed as incurred.

In 2008, the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants (CICA) has stated that not-for-profit organizations may choose not to apply Section 3862, Financial instruments - disclosures and 3863, Financial instruments - presentation. The Order has elected to continue to apply Section 3861, Financial instruments - disclosure and presentation.

Inventories Inventories are carried at the lower of cost, determined using the first in, first out method, and net realizable value.

Capital assets Capital assets are carried at cost less accumulated depreciation. Depreciation is calculated based on the estimated useful lives of the assets using the straight-line method at the following annual rates:

Furniture and fixtures	10%
Telephone system	20%
Computer hardware	25%

Intangible assets Software is carried at cost less accumulated amortization. Amortization is calculated based on the estimated useful lives of the assets using the straight-line method over a period of 5 years.

Revenue recognition The Order uses the deferral method to recognize contributions.

Memberships dues of members and candidates are recognized as revenue on an accrual basis. Fees collected for a subsequent period are shown as deferred revenue on the statement of financial position.

Restricted contributions are recognized as revenue in the year in which the related charges are incurred. Unrestricted contributions are recognized as revenue when received or receivable if the amount to be received can be reasonably estimated and collection is reasonably assured. Endowment contributions are recognized as direct increases in net assets.

Other revenues are recognized when there is clear proof that an arrangement exists, delivery has occurred and service has been performed, sales price is fixed or determinable and when collectability is reasonably assured.

Contributed services The operations of the Order are dependent on the voluntary service of many members. Due to the difficulty in determining the fair value of contributed services, these are not recognized in the financial statements.

Rent expense recognition The lease provides for free rent and an increase in minimum lease payments during the term of the lease. The Order recognizes its rent expense on a straight-line basis over the term of the lease and records as deferred lease inducement the excess of the rent calculated on a straight-line basis over the rent payable under the terms of the lease.

The rent expense also includes payments for property taxes, operating expenses and other related expenses which are accounted for on an accrual basis.

④ Short-term Investments

Other revenues received in advance	376,989	74,260
	$5,676,163	$5,545,247

⑨ Pension plan

The Order maintains a defined contribution pension plan for its employees. The cost of the plan is based on the amount of the Order's contributions. During the period, the Order made required contributions of $158,427 ($128,212 in 2011).

⑩ Capital management

The Order's capital consists of its unrestricted net assets. The Order's objectives in managing its capital are to safeguard its ability to continue as a going concern so it can continue to ensure the protection of the public and to provide services to its members. The Order manages its capital by preparing and monitoring its annual budgets to ensure it is maintained at an appropriate level.

The Order is not subject to externally imposed capital requirements.

⑪ Financial instruments

Risk management The Order manages its exposure to the risks associated with financial instruments that affect its operating and financial performance in order to reduce volatility in cash flow and earnings.

As concerns financial instruments, the Order ensures an ongoing review to evaluate changes in the status of investments, in accordance with its investment policy.

The Order is exposed to risks associated with its financial instruments as described below. An analysis of sensitivity to specified risks is provided where these risks may significantly affect earnings, operations or financial position. The sensitivity analysis is performed by relating the reasonably possible changes in the risk variables at May 15, 2012 to financial instruments outstanding on that date.

There have been no changes in risk management during the period.

Credit risk The credit risk is the risk that the Order could incur losses due to the inability of a debtor to discharge its obligations. The Order's exposure to credit risk extends to the carrying amount of the financial assets classified as loans and receivables. An allowance for doubtful accounts is recognized when collectability is uncertain.

Interest rate risk The Order is exposed to interest rate risk on its fixed-interest financial instruments. Interest rate risk arises from the possible changes in market interest rate and their effects on the fair value of the financial instruments.

Currency risk The Order does not enter into foreign currency transactions. Therefore, it is not exposed to changes in foreign exchange rates.

Fair value The fair value of cash, short-term investments, accounts receivable and accounts payable and accrued liabilities corresponds approximately to their carrying amounts because of their short-term maturity dates.

The fair value of long-term investments corresponds to their carrying amount as they bear interest at rates that are close to market rates for similar instruments.

The fair value is based on management's estimates and is generally calculated according to the market conditions at a specific moment. This value may not reflect future value.

⑫ Contingency

The Order has guaranteed the payment of its contractual obligations under an operating lease by way of a letter of credit of $450,000 in favor of the lessor, secured by a guaranteed investment certificate of $450,000. The letter of credit will be reduced annually as follows:

2016	$360,000
2017	270,000
2018	180,000
2019	90,000

⑬ Contractual obligations

The Order is committed, under an operating lease agreement for office space until June 2023, for a total amount of $3,415,850. The minimum rental payments for the next five years are as follows:

2013	$243,634
2014	278,439
2015	278,439
2016	298,328
2017	304,957

The Order is committed, under an operating lease for office equipment and a contract for outsourced services expiring between March 2014 and March 2016, for a total amount of $195,819. The minimum rental payments for the next four years are as follows:

2013	$67,343
2014	76,964
2015	25,756

⑭ Related party transactions

The Ordre des comptables en management accrédités du Québec and the Fondation de l'Ordre des comptables en management accrédités du Québec are related organizations due to the degree of influence the Order has over the Foundation.

The Foundation was incorporated under Part III of the Quebec Companies Act. The Foundation's mission is to provide financial relief to students and support research projects or community projects, which are likely to impact the development and influence of the CMA profession. The president-executive director of the Order and two full-time employees sit on the board of directors of the Foundation, which has ten directors.

The Order offers free administrative support and office space to the Foundation. Since their fair value is difficult to estimate, these services are not reflected in the financial statements.
