6. In the pursuit of its mission, the institute may

(1) with the collaboration, among other bodies, of the Comité sectoriel de main-d'œuvre de l'industrie des mines established under Part III of the Companies Act (R.S.Q., chapter C-38), conduct or commission the studies and research required for a full understanding of the mining sector and for developing the skills required in that sector;

(2) conduct pilot projects and experiments, in particular on the organization of training;

(3) subject to the applicable legislative provisions, enter into an agreement with a government other than that of Québec, with a department of such a government, with an international organization or with a body of such a government or organization;

(4) solicit and receive gifts, legacies, subsidies or other contributions, provided that any attached conditions are consistent with its mission;

(5) establish methods of collaboration with other persons or partnerships in the mining sector; and

(6) carry out any other mandate received from the Minister.

In the case of a tie vote, the chair has a casting vote.

17. The Government determines the remuneration, employee benefits and other conditions of employment of the president and chief executive officer.

The other members of the board receive no remuneration except in the cases, on the conditions and to the extent the Government may determine. They are entitled, however, to the reimbursement of the expenses they incur in the performance of their duties, on the conditions and to the extent determined by the Government.

18. The members of the personnel of the institute are appointed in accordance with the staffing plan established by by-law of the institute.

20. The institute may make by-laws for its internal management.

The by-laws may, among other things, establish committees to examine specific issues or facilitate the proper operation of the institute and determine the functions and powers of a committee and the term of office of its members.

Committee members receive no remuneration except in the cases, on the conditions and to the extent determined by the Government. They are entitled, however, to the reimbursement of the expenses incurred in the performance of their duties, on the conditions and to the extent determined by the Government.

The institute may, on the conditions it determines, allow a required signature to be affixed by means of an automatic device to the documents it determines, or a facsimile of a signature to be engraved, lithographed or printed on them. However, the facsimile has the same force as the signature itself only if the document is countersigned by a person authorized by the chair of the board or the president and chief executive officer.

26. The minutes of the meetings of the board of directors, approved by the board and certified by the chair or another person authorized by the institute, are authentic, as are documents and copies emanating from the institute or forming part of its records if signed or certified in the same way.
