Passage in Principle

Mr. Coiteux, Minister of Municipal Affairs and Land Occupancy, moved that Bill 83, An Act to amend various municipal-related legislative provisions concerning such matters as political financing, do now pass in principle.

A debate arose thereon.

At the end of his address, Mr. Ouellet (René-Lévesque) moved the following motion to divide the said Bill:

At 4.52 o’clock p.m., Mr. Gendron, Third Vice-President, suspended the proceedings for a few minutes.

The proceedings resumed at 5.18 o’clock p.m.

15 March 2016

At 5.36 o'clock p.m., after hearing arguments from all sides regarding the receivability of the motion to divide, Mr. Gendron, Third Vice-President, took the matter under advisement and suspended the proceedings until 7.30 o'clock p.m.

The proceedings resumed at 7.37 o'clock p.m.

Passage in Principle

The Assembly continued the debate on the motion moved by Mr. Coiteux, Minister of Municipal Affairs and Land Occupancy, that Bill 83, An Act to amend various municipal-related legislative provisions concerning such matters as political financing, do now pass in principle.

Mr. Gendron, Third Vice-President, made his ruling on the receivability of the motion to divide moved by Mr. Ouellet (René-Lévesque).

RULING FROM THE CHAIR

On numerous occasions, parliamentary jurisprudence has recognized that, for a motion to divide to be declared receivable, a bill must contain more than one principle and each bill resulting from the division must be coherent, complete and able to stand alone. It has also been established that a distinction must be made between a principle, which is an essential element of a bill, and a term, which is ancillary to this principle. Furthermore, the Chair must, when determining the principles, neither seek nor take into account the intention of the bill's author, basing the analysis solely on the bill's provisions.

In the case at hand, the Chair does not deny that the intention may be to respond to various requests concerning the municipal sector. However, it notes that this intention translates into several principles. Moreover, this is not in itself a criterion that the Chair is required to consider in analyzing the receivability of a motion to divide, just as the Chair is not required to consider the fact that, in the past, motions to divide were not moved for all bills that concerned municipal matters. The only criteria guiding the Chair are those outlined in jurisprudence and those stipulated by the Standing Orders.

Standing Order 268 provides that private bills are the only type of bill for which motions to divide cannot be moved. Since the bill in question here is not a private bill, the Chair cannot conclude that moving a motion to divide on that basis is prohibited. Furthermore, a past ruling declared a motion to divide moved against a bill that amended various legislative provisions in the municipal sector receivable.

Analysis shows that the bill contains more than one principle, not simply various terms linked to a single principle. As drafted, the motion to divide proposes grouping the initial bill's elements into four bills: bills 2, 3 and 4 resulting from the division would constitute as many separate principles, and a first bill, entitled "An Act to amend various municipal-related legislative provisions", would constitute the remainder of a bill to amend various municipal-related legislative provisions. This first bill could also be considered a bill in its own right.

Following its analysis, the Chair must determine whether each bill resulting from the division is a coherent whole able to stand alone.

The Chair notes that, except for the section on coming into force, there are no cross-references in the bills resulting from the division that would render them incoherent. Furthermore, under the section on coming into force, certain provisions would take effect on a specific date. All of these provisions are found only in the second bill. Section 90 is therefore meaningful where the second bill is concerned. Withdrawing the exceptions from section 90, as formulated in the three other bills, is in keeping with what parliamentary jurisprudence allows regarding a section on coming into force.

Therefore, the motion to divide meets the criteria established by jurisprudence and is declared receivable.

Mr. Gendron, Third Vice-President, informed the Assembly of the allocation of speaking time for the proceedings with respect to this limited debate: 56 minutes 30 seconds to the parliamentary group forming the Government; 33 minutes 30 seconds to the parliamentary group forming the Official Opposition; 23 minutes to the parliamentary group forming the Second Opposition Group; and 7 minutes to the independent Members, subject to a maximum of 2 minutes to the Member for Arthabaska. Within this framework, any time not used by the independent Members or by a parliamentary group shall be redistributed among the parliamentary groups in the proportions established above. Lastly, individual addresses shall not be limited.

15 March 2016

The Assembly entered upon the debate on the motion to divide moved by Mr. Ouellet (René-Lévesque).

The debate being concluded, the question was put on the motion to divide, and a recorded division was thereupon demanded.

The motion was negatived on the following vote:

(Division No. 175 in Appendix)

The Assembly continued the debate on the motion moved by Mr. Coiteux, Minister of Municipal Affairs and Land Occupancy, that Bill 83, An Act to amend various municipal-related legislative provisions concerning such matters as political financing, do now pass in principle.

Mr. Sklavounos, Deputy Government House Leader, moved that Bill 83 be referred to the Committee on Planning and the Public Domain for clause-by-clause consideration.

The motion was carried on division.
