WRITTEN QUESTIONS

Questions already placed on the Order Paper
are published each Wednesday

- (297) Mr. Bonnardel (Granby) – 10 April 2018
To the Minister of Justice

Sometimes there are unfortunate situations where persons pass away following treatment or hospitalization. Unfortunately, if loved ones suspect a medical error and want to consult the deceased person's medical record, if this person was 14 years of age or older, access thereto is refused by medical authorities as well as by the Commission d'accès à l'information.

Owing to the existing delays in the justice system, this situation can quickly become a complicated and expensive burden.

Within this context, does the Government of Québec plan to add a document to the admission record in which the patient would name a person responsible for verifying this in the event of his or her death following treatment or hospitalization?

(299) Mr. Turcotte (Saint-Jean) – 11 April 2018
To the Minister responsible for Higher Education

Since 2011, the Ordre des pharmaciens du Québec has been working on various documents concerning the development of pharmacy technician skills upgrading. Furthermore, two documents, "Projet de révision du rôle des assistants techniques en pharmacie (ATP)", released in February 2014, and "Profil de compétences personnel technique", released in March 2014, report on the progress of work to that effect.

In July 2014, the Ministère de l'Éducation et de l'Enseignement supérieur (MEES) mandated a consulting firm to carry out a sector study focussing on pharmacists and experts in the field of pharmacy. The main objective of this mandate was to "[Translation] assess adequacy between the current and projected situation (manpower requirements) in community pharmacies and health establishments and the provision of training in the pharmacy industry". A sub-objective was to gather information that would allow the concerned departments to decide what initial training is required to practice pharmacy technician professions. This 176-page report was released in 2016.

You replied to my latest written question on this issue by mentioning that the Ministère de la Santé et des Services sociaux (MSSS) had recently decided on the need to carry out an analysis on hospital pharmacies.

- How many analyses and studies will be required for a decision to be taken?
- How much have these and will future studies cost?
- Have you consulted the Ordre des pharmaciens du Québec and the Association québécoise des assistants techniques en pharmacie?

Finally, in your reply to my previous written question, you mentioned that "[Translation] in accordance with the approach adopted by the MSSS, the MESS will then be able to establish the best training arrangements to meet pharmacy industry workplace needs, in accordance with the needs [...]. Well, it will establish the appropriate timetable, where necessary".

- What is this timetable?

(303) Mr. LeBel (Rimouski) – 26 April 2018
To the Minister of Employment and Social Solidarity

Last 28 March, the Minister of Employment and Social Solidarity confirmed that the province will receive $6.4 million from the Federal Government to compensate families who have to deal with the employment insurance "black hole".

To that end, paid training is currently available in local employment centres to address the financial imbalance experienced by seasonal workers, mainly in the four regions affected by the black hole (Bas-Saint-Laurent, Gaspésie–Les-Îles, Côte-Nord and Charlevoix). We would like further clarification regarding this program.

My questions are the following:

- Is the training program that aims to address the black hole problem a new program implemented by Emploi-Québec? Or was the money transferred from the Federal allocated to an existing program?
- What is the program description? What are the admission criteria? How will this training program address the realities of persons who have to deal with the black hole?
- Will the training program be available in all Québec regions or will only the four most affected regions benefit from this program (Bas-Saint-Laurent, Gaspésie–Les-Îles, Côte-Nord and Charlevoix)?
- Does the Government plan to deploy additional resources throughout Québec to address the needs of persons who have to deal with the employment insurance black hole?
- Must persons dealing with the black hole who wish to apply for Emploi-Québec's training program qualify for welfare beforehand?
- If a person is eligible for a training measure that is not currently available in the area, what happens to the employment assistance allowance to which they would be entitled?

- Furthermore, what happens to a person who receives an employment assistance allowance but who cannot finish their training because their seasonal job starts before the end of training?
- In our opinion, the dissemination of information regarding the training program has been very limited so far. What measures does the minister intend to take to make this information available? Will federal employment insurance officers also have the information to effectively assist beneficiaries?
- If the $6.4 million transferred from the Federal have not been used up by the end of the fiscal year, what will happen to this money?
- Considering that a motion asking the Federal Government to review the way it calculates employment insurance benefits was adopted unanimously in the National Assembly, does the Government of Québec plan to pursue this claim? Or, will it simply be satisfied with a transfer of money that, ultimately, does not address the black hole problem?

304) Mrs. Roy (Montarville) – 9 May 2018

To the Minister responsible for Access to Information and the Reform of Democratic Institutions

The chief scientist, in a brief entitled "Orientations gouvernementales pour un gouvernement plus transparent, dans le respect de la vie privée et de la protection des renseignements personnels" (Government policy directions for a more transparent government, respectful of a person's right to privacy and the protection of personal information), and Québec's community of clinician researchers maintain that it is immediately possible to save lives by accessing medical data contained in the government's health databases. However, owing to the restrictive character of the Act respecting Access to documents held by public bodies and the Protection of personal information, health databases are rarely made available to Québec researchers.

While the Commission d'accès à l'information's work is irreproachable regarding managing individual rights and protecting personal health information, some might wonder whether the Commission's restrictive rulings and decisions run counter to the moral and ethical precedence of the sanctity of life. The Commission's decisions seem to interfere with the common good and break the social contract in the name of a legal satisfaction that does not resonate within Québec society.

All political and legal stakeholders have a clear understanding of the required counterbalance to the Act respecting Access to ensure balance with legitimate societal interests, such as public safety and the administration of justice for instance, but these very stakeholders remain blocked in relation to access to health information, whose capacity to immediately save lives has been proved time and again. It is evident that the current Act is therefore too restrictive vis-à-vis access to health data and that an administrative tribunal's rulings (such as those handed down by the Commission d'accès à l'information) are an inadequate means of arbitrating complex situations and seizing the opportunity to save lives and improve the health of Québec's population.

From the perspective that Québec lags behind in access to government medical data and that access to this data saves lives, notably through innovative research designs, and also taking into consideration the progress made in several countries, including Ontario's leadership, I would like to know if the minister plans to amend the act in order to:

1. Allow university researchers and academics to link medical files directly to government health databases (including survival, data derived from hospitalization – including International Classification of Diseases (ICD) codes particularly –, prescription drug use, physician billing, medical testing) to enable a pragmatic administrative follow-up that will respond to medical issues of common interest;
2. Divert from the court system, therefore remove the process for accessing government data task from the Commission d'accès à l'information to allow for more flexibility in the process and facilitate collaboration between the government and researchers. To achieve this, reviewing the relevance of a request for access to information and educating applicants on regulatory aspects could be carried out through a panel of peers;
3. Promote the creation of secured government and university co-institutes dedicated to research and capable of carrying out government, academic and public mandates, for the sake of Quebecers' health and to improve the governance of the health system (such as the Institute for Clinical Evaluative Sciences – or ICES – in Ontario);
4. Modernize the individual consent process for access to government data to adapt it to the current digital environment, technological advances and new data dynamics.

(305) Mr. Jolin-Barrette (Borduas) – 10 May 2018

To the Minister for Rehabilitation, Youth Protection, Public Health and Healthy Living

The Association des Arches du Québec is made up of eight communities in the province. The Arches enable persons with or without intellectual disabilities to live together. This closeness helps break down barriers and create strong ties among members of the community.

As a member of the provincial association, Arche Beloeil's mission is to provide support services and a living environment to persons with intellectual disabilities. Since 1981, it has accommodated 17 residents and assistants in one of the three houses adapted to their needs. Also, thanks to visual arts, it gives these individuals an opportunity to grow and achieve their potential in Le Pot-en-ciel art workshop.

The organization currently receives an annual amount of $389,709 through the Programme de soutien aux organismes communautaires (PSOC), which represents $62.81 per day/resident. The Québec average is $67.71, which places Arche Beloeil below the average.

Although the PSOC is regionalized, the amounts allocated among the organizations having a similar mission should be fair and equitable. Arche Saint-Malachie, a comparable organization, receives an amount of $598,990 annually, which is equal to $91.17 per day/resident.

Well aware of this discrepancy, representatives of the provincial association took steps to underline this injustice and demand that equity be restored among Québec's Arches.

What does the Minister intend to do ensure that the amounts allocated through the Programme de soutien aux organismes communautaires are distributed equitably among Québec's Arches?

(306) Mr. Turcotte (Saint-Jean) – 16 May 2018

To the Minister of Transport, Sustainable Mobility and Transport Electrification

Built in 1915, the Gouin Bridge in the Vieux-Saint-Jean sector was declared a bridge of strategic importance by your department on 25 May 2005. The heavy traffic load, the cost of rebuilding the bridge and its availability as an alternative route for Highway 35 make the rebuilding of this infrastructure a major issue for the Haut-Richelieu region.

Following one of my many interventions on this issue, one of your predecessors had confirmed, in a reply tabled in the National Assembly on 24 May 2016, that the department recommended the decommissioning of the current bridge by December 2018. On 6 February 2017, your colleague the Minister responsible for the Montérégie region hastily announced that the bridge would be rebuilt. Unfortunately, the detailed schedule was never made public, even though this has a more than considerable impact on the residents and businesses in the sector. Furthermore, the rebuilding of the bridge has seriously delayed the revitalization of the Vieux-Saint-Jean sector.

- Can you confirm that the original schedule for the opening of the new bridge in December 2018 is still valid?
- If not, can you explain the reasons justifying additional delays?
- In the event that there are additional delays, can you put a figure on the associated cost overruns?
- In the event that there are additional delays, were and will new safety assessments be carried out on the current Gouin Bridge structure?

(307) Mr. Caire (La Peltre) – 16 May 2018
To the Chair of the Conseil du trésor

In February 2017, the Conseil du trésor included a trailer clause in the agreement in principle accepted by the Fraternité des constables du contrôle routier du Québec (FCCRQ), which clause mentions that if the salary of another enforcement body is increased, this will also be the case for the FCCRQ and its members. Although the Conseil du trésor granted an additional step to special constables and bodyguards, Conseil du trésor representatives have indicated to FCCRQ representatives that the trailer clause does not apply since their salary has not been increased.

How, in the calculations, can the Conseil du trésor dissociate the salary step from the concept of salary? By gaining an additional step, these enforcement officers inevitably had a salary increase. How do you intend to resolve and normalize this long-standing situation with Québec's highway controllers?
