WRITTEN QUESTIONS

- (62) Mr. Ouellette (Chomedey) – 30 May 2019
To the Minister of Public Security

The SAAQ's alcohol ignition interlock device program allows 20,000 drivers who have been convicted of alcohol-impaired driving to use their vehicle without compromising the safety of other Québec road users.

Recently, the SAAQ changed subcontractor and turned the program management over to an American company whose record is rather worrisome. Abysmally bad customer service, long waiting times for appointments, lack of confidentiality. It's even been said that a former SAAQ employee was involved in the awarding of the contract. Yet, there clearly were red flags: dissatisfaction expressed numerous times; even the State of Virginia suspended the installation of this supplier's products owing to their poor quality.

But the SAAQ jumped in head first, boasting that the new supplier offered a bargain to users.

In its haste, the SAAQ urges program participants to have their ignition interlock device uninstalled to take advantage of the bargain offered with the new device. Believe it or not, this new installation must be carried out in a second garage. The SAAQ is unable to guarantee that these drivers are not driving without the ignition interlock device.

Yet, the Highway Safety Code is clear: the holder of a restricted licence cannot drive a road vehicle unless it is equipped with an alcohol ignition interlock device. We are talking about 20,000 drivers convicted of alcohol-impaired driving who have the possibility of driving without their ignition interlock devices with the SAAQ's blessing.

Knowing that drinking and driving still kills too many innocent Quebecers each year, what does the Minister of Public Security intend to do to ensure that no Quebecers are endangered due to the SAAQ's erratic and irresponsible behaviour?
