Part 5

WRITTEN QUESTIONS

Questions already placed on the Order Paper are published each Wednesday

- (49) Mr. Arseneau (Îles-de-la-Madeleine) – 10 December 2021
To the Minister of Transport

The 2019 passage of the Act respecting remunerated passenger transportation by automobile led to turmoil in the taxi industry. Certain aspects of this new Act were widely denounced by stakeholders in the industry.

Consequently, as regards this industry:

1. I would like to ask the Minister if the work of the advisory panel on modernizing the taxi industry will continue, and if so, when is the committee's next meeting? Could the Minister also provide us with the dates of all previously held meetings?
2. Following the passage of the new Act, taxi drivers' lost the right to practice the profession upon authorization renewal, due to a legal matter dating back several years, even though this matter had been disclosed during registration procedures prior to 2019, without affecting their right to practice their profession. Could you explain why this is?
3. Industry members point out that some fines are particularly disproportionate to the nature of the offence; for example, forgetting to have a vehicle qualified – which costs $9 – results in a fine of $3,750 including fees. Is the department considering an analysis of the situation to address this complaint from the industry?

- (50) Mr. Fontecilla (Laurier-Dorion) 10 December 2021
To the Minister of Municipal Affairs and Housing

The housing crisis that is happening all across Québec, in both large urban centres and remote regions, is hitting modest and low-income households hard, and is also affecting middle-class households. In the current context of real estate speculation, a housing shortage, skyrocketing rents and reprehensible practices such as “renovictions”, the percentage of income needed to pay rent continues to increase.

Fortunately, Québec has a program to fund social housing, the AccèsLogis program, which allows a portion of the real estate market to operate sheltered from speculative or abusive tendencies in the private market, thus helping to keep rents truly affordable for the most vulnerable households.

However, due to the lack of adequate funding for AccèsLogis and the failure to index eligible costs to keep up with inflation, several thousand housing units announced and promised by previous and current governments have still not been delivered and made available to the tens of thousands of households stuck on waiting lists.

The construction of over 7,000 planned units has yet to begin – due to a lack of funding – despite the current Premier’s 2018 election commitment in this regard. What’s more, stakeholders in the field estimate that at least 10,000 additional social housing units are being developed to meet housing needs and will require AccèsLogis funding in the near future.

Lastly, the Government’s November 25 budget update heightened concerns about the future of social housing in Québec, as the Government announced $304 million over five years for access to housing in the private market, but did not budget any monies for social housing.

Considering the foregoing, I would like to ask the Minister the following questions:

- Will the Minister commit to funding all the social housing units already planned for in the next budget?
- Will the Minister commit to providing for multi-year planning of at least 10,000 new AccèsLogis social housing units per year in the next budget?
- Will the Minister commit to continuing the social housing construction program under the co-operative and non-profit housing formula?

(51) Mr. Fontecilla (Laurier-Dorion) 10 December 2021
