BUSINESS STANDING IN THE NAME OF MEMBERS IN OPPOSITION

- (38) 23 May 2023
Motion moved by Leader of the Third Opposition Group

THAT the National Assembly affirm that full compliance with the laws democratically passed by the Parliament of Québec, in particular Québec's Election Act and the Referendum Act, is an essential condition for maintaining the Québec nation's democratic health and respect for its democratically expressed will;

THAT it recall that the conclusions of Commissioner Bernard Grenier's report, published in May 2007, state that a total of $539,460 was spent illegally by Option Canada and the Council for Canadian Unity during the 1995 referendum period;

THAT it recall that the Grenier Commission was not mandated to look into other potentially fraudulent expenses, in particular the organization of the “love-in” and the advertising placement funded by Canadian Heritage;

THAT it affirm that nearly 30 years have passed since the 1995 referendum campaign and that the right to freedom of expression, the right to freedom of the press, the right to information and the open court principle require that the documents compiled as part of Commissioner Grenier’s work be publicly disclosed to ensure future generations’ right to know Québec’s history;

THAT it therefore order the Government of Québec to introduce as soon as possible a bill to declassify all the Grenier Commission documents and initiate all legislative procedures necessary for this purpose.

WRITTEN QUESTIONS

Questions already placed on the Order Paper are published each Wednesday

- (21) Mr. Fontecilla (Laurier-Dorion) – 5 April 2023
To the Minister Responsible for Housing

According to the most recent report on property health by the Société d'habitation du Québec, dated 31 March 2022, 40.2% of the 64,663 affordable housing units in Québec require major renovations, compared to 28.9% in 2020.

Meanwhile, we learned that $275 million available through the second component of the Canada-Québec Housing Agreement, which was to be used to renovate low-rent housing, was instead used for construction through the AccèsLogis program.

In a La Presse article on 27 February 2023, the Minister's press secretary, Mr. Philippe Couture, stated that while it was true that some money was temporarily allocated to the AccèsLogis program, that was only to ensure that no federal funding was lost while waiting for the launch of a renovation program for low-rent housing, which was a requirement of the agreement. He added that the program would soon be presented to the Government for authorization.

My question to the Minister Responsible for Housing is the following:

Considering that the Canada-Québec agreement was signed in October 2020, why was a Québec renovation program not established in 2021 or 2022, if that was a requirement for receiving investments?

- (24) Mr. Fontecilla (Laurier-Dorion) – 18 April 2023
To the Minister Responsible for Social Solidarity and Community Action

The financial assistance provided under the Basic Income Program is taxable, just like other last-resort financial assistance benefits, including the Social Solidarity Program. There is no withholding tax at the time of payment. To date, citizens receiving social assistance have almost always fallen short of provincial exemption requirements. However, with the increase in the Basic Income Program and the indexation of the amounts paid out, minimal as they may be, social solidarity recipients will have to pay income tax for the first time ever in Québec.

Furthermore, with the entry into force of the Basic Income Program in January 2023, certain individuals who have been recognized as having a severely limited capacity for employment and who have access to programs such as Retraite Québec disability pensions, IVAC pensions, certain other pension annuities, etc. would be entitled to a lumpsum payment (the difference between their social assistance amount and pension amount) and to a financial assistance claim slip providing them with the right to free medications and help for certain special needs.

My questions to the Minister Responsible for Social Solidarity and Community Action are the following:

- 1) Will the Minister commit to ensuring that all persons concerned are informed of this right by the responsible, respective departments? Will she see to it that a message is sent out to them?
- 2) Will the social assistance recipients affected by this unexpected taxation be compensated for the income tax they will have to pay for the 2022 tax year? Will corrective measures be undertaken for 2023, given that the problem will be worse by then?

25) Mr. Derraji (Nelligan) – 19 April 2023
To the Premier

On two occasions, first on 23 April 2021 and then on 1 October 2021, Mr. Michel Lépine, President of NOBCO Micro-systèmes, sent the Premier a formal request for a public inquiry into a matter involving Mr. Lépine and his company, National Bank and, at the time, the CSST.

Mr. Lépine alleges there may be embezzlement, even fraud, in the performance of a $130 million contract involving at least the three above-mentioned parties, the result of which he was defrauded.

Without passing judgment on the substance of the allegations, it appears to me that Mr. Lépine has legitimate reason to consider himself in the position of a whistleblower and to expect a follow-up on his request.

Faced with a lack of response following his correspondence, Mr. Lépine also sent an affidavit concerning his allegations to the Premier's office, specifically on 8 March 2022.

Allegations of fraud, corruption, fabrication, and even destruction of evidence – this situation, if proven true, and given Mr. Lépine's professional background as an SPVM investigator, necessitates the Premier's attention.

My questions are the following:

- 1) Can the Premier assure me that a detailed response will be given to Mr. Lépine as soon as possible?
- 2) Can the Premier give the House an update on this matter? Has an assessment been carried out, and if so, what are its conclusions and how does the Premier intend to follow up on it?

(27) Mr. Leduc (Hochelaga-Maisonneuve) – 26 April 2023

To the Minister Responsible for Housing

On 30 December 2022, tenants Jean-François Raymond and Joseph Picard, residents of Rue Ontario Est, in Montréal, for 22 years and 54 years respectively, received a notice of eviction asking them to vacate their apartments. Their new landlord wants to evict them in order to change the destination of the dwellings by converting them into short-term tourist accommodations of the Airbnb type.

On 8 March 2023, during a press conference alongside Mr. Raymond, the Member for Gouin and I asked the Government to move rapidly to amend article 1959 of the Civil Code of Québec so that evictions are no longer permitted to create tourist accommodations. At the time, we pointed out that this straightforward legislative amendment could be done in a day or even in just a few hours, without costing taxpayers a single penny, and that it had the potential to prevent the eviction of countless tenants.

We would like to recall a few remarks made by Mr. Raymond, which were reported on by a number of Québec media outlets. He said that that he was experiencing a lot of stress and was fearful not knowing where his family would go believing they would no longer have the means to live on the island. He added that tenants are being evicted to create tourist accommodations, yet many hotels are struggling with low hotel room occupancy rates.

During a March 10th press conference, in response to a journalist's question relating to changing the destination of dwellings, the Minister Responsible for Housing said that she found it deplorable that vulnerable people are being evicted from their housing after years of living there for very questionable reasons and that she had no intention of letting the situation continue. She also said that she was ready to take action, whether it be for evictions to create Airbnbs, section F of leases or brutal renovictions.

On April 12th, Mr. Raymond sent the Minister a letter by email, of which I also received a certified copy. In the letter, he thanks the Minister for having publicly shared her intention to take action against evictions made to change the destination of dwellings and urges her to act quickly on her commitment to introduce amending legislation that would be retroactive. Indeed, Mr. Raymond indicates that he wants to benefit, like many other Québec households, from the legislative change to be made to article 1959 of the Civil Code of Québec in order to be able to keep the apartment he has lived in for 22 years, but that he will most likely have to leave on June 30th. Lastly, he asks the Minister to use her discretionary power to counter his eviction and that of Mr. Picard.

While Québec is currently undergoing an unprecedented housing crisis, evicting tenants to create tourist accommodations should not be permitted by law. Hundreds of Québec households are currently struggling to find affordable housing, and that number is likely to increase substantially as 1 July 2023 approaches.

In light of the above, my questions are the following:

1. Will the Minister reaffirm her willingness to act quickly to legislate on the issue of evictions resulting from a change in the destination of dwellings to make way for Airbnb-type tourist accommodations?
2. If such is the will of the Minister, what timetable does she recommend for tackling such evictions, since she declared on 9 March 2023 that she had no intention of allowing the situation continue?
3. Will the Minister commit to legislating on the issue of evictions resulting from a change made to the destination of dwellings to create Airbnb-type tourist accommodations by the end of the current parliamentary sessional period?
4. Does the Minister intend to reply by June 30th to the letter emailed to her by Mr. Raymond on 12 April 2023?
5. Can the Minister explain the reasons preventing her from quickly passing legislative amendments to article 1959 of the Civil Code of Québec?
6. Will the Minister commit to passing legislative amendments to article 1959 of the Civil Code of Québec, with retroactive effect, by June 30th?

7. If this is not the case, why can't the Minister, to alleviate the unfortunate consequences of her inaction, commit to ensuring that the legislative amendments meant to protect tenants, including the amendment of article 1959 of the Civil Code of Québec, will be applicable retroactively?

(28) Mr. Arseneau (Îles-de-la-Madeleine) – 3 mai 2023
To the Minister of Health

During the examination of the estimates of expenditure on 26 April 2023, the Minister of Health indicated that the Ministère de la Santé would publish, in the coming days, an indexation policy regarding the User Travel Policy.

In addition, on 3 March 2023, the Member for Gaspé presented a petition on revising the health and social services network's User Travel Policy.

Given the above, our questions to the Minister of Health are the following:

- When will this indexation policy be published?
- Will this policy apply retroactively to 1 January 2023?
- Does the Minister intend to revise the User Travel Policy, in particular to increase the compensation for accommodation and travel expenses so that it covers the actual expenses incurred by patients?

(29) Mr. Bérubé (Matane-Matapédia) – 11 May 2023
To the Minister for Health and for Seniors

According to a news article by journalists Thomas Gerbet and Daniel Boily published on 10 May 2023 and a document produced by the Québec government's Secrétariat aux aînés and made public on 3 May, Coalition avenir Québec (CAQ) ridings have more seniors' housing than the party's relative weight. The two documents also show that in many CAQ regions, there are more spaces available than there are seniors who need them. Furthermore, there are no plans to build seniors' housing in the Matane-Matapédia riding, which has one of the highest average ages in Québec with a median age of 52 years. Meanwhile, the Hull, Mirabel, Les Plaines and Jean-Talon ridings, which have a median age of 38 years, lower than the rest of Québec (43 years), will get seniors' housing.

My question is the following: why is there no seniors' housing in the Matane-Matapédia riding, and why are there no plans to build one despite its population's high average age?

- (30) Ms. Labrie (Sherbrooke) – 23 May 2023
To the Minister of Health

Under the Regulation respecting hearing devices and insured services, retired people are entitled to reimbursement for one hearing aid, while people who are employed and have an income are entitled to reimbursement for two hearing aids. This situation increases retired people's financial insecurity.

In 2019, the office of the Minister responsible for Seniors and Informal Caregivers stated that a review of the Regulation was underway. This review was not completed while Québec government departments were busy managing the COVID-19 crisis. However, in May 2022, the office of the Minister of Health, which is now responsible for reviewing the Regulation, stated that this review was planned for the next few months. One year later, the Regulations have still not been reviewed and retirees are still financially vulnerable.

In light of the above, my question to the Minister of Health is the following:

When will the Minister change this policy to end this age discrimination?

- (31) Mr. Leduc (Hochelaga-Maisonneuve) – 23 May 2023
To the Minister of Labour

The Association Québécoise des Entrepreneurs en Infrastructure (AQEI) is concerned about the increasing number of accidents and deaths of road workers and flag persons, which are largely due to the negligent behaviour of drivers. Flag persons are essential to the safety of both road users and construction workers. Unfortunately, their work is constantly questioned and criticized, which ultimately puts their safety at risk. All too often, the Move-Over Law is not complied with, drivers do not slow down and flag persons are insulted.

As this is an issue that affects several government bodies, such as the Ministère du Travail, the Ministère des Transports et de la Mobilité durable, the Ministère de la Sécurité publique and the SAAQ, they tend to pass the buck to each other. Meanwhile, the lives of flag persons are still at risk. On 27 March 2023, a flag person was hit by an impatient driver who fled the scene.

For this reason, the AQEI would like the Government to implement several measures to better protect the safety of road workers and flag persons. Firstly, the AQEI proposes the establishment of a joint panel where all those affected by this issue can discuss the measures to be implemented to increase the safety of flag persons. Secondly, it proposes the launch of an awareness campaign to make drivers aware that their actions can endanger the lives and safety of flag persons. Thirdly, the AQEI proposes that the fines for failure to comply with the Move-Over Law and speed limit be increased to encourage compliance with the regulations. In addition, it proposes that the SAAQ update its training for future drivers to include safety around work sites. Lastly, the AQEI proposes that police officers be assigned to work sites to ensure that drivers are more compliant with the regulations.

Considering the above, my question is the following:

Given that there are already several panels (in particular at the Ministère des Transports et de la Mobilité durable) where this issue is discussed, but that a global and common dialogue between all stakeholders is more than necessary, will the Minister of Labour commit as of today to set up a joint advisory panel where all the stakeholders concerned by this matter, including those mentioned above, can finally hold discussions in order to implement solutions to ensure that the lives of flag persons are better protected?

(32) Ms. Lakhoyan Olivier (Chomedey) – 23 May 2023
To the Minister of Tourism

I recently met with representatives of the Maison du tourisme de Tadoussac to hear their concerns.

Tadoussac, a municipality of about 800 people, welcomes between 250,000 and 300,000 tourists annually who come to enjoy the region's natural resources. In fact, delegates from the international association of the Most Beautiful Bays in the World Club will visit the municipality in 2025 for their annual convention.

However, Tadoussac needs support to be able to continue receiving a large number of visitors each year. The authorities need an estimated $15 million to upgrade their washroom facilities.

In addition, the building that houses the Maison du tourisme de Tadoussac needs work, especially on the roof and exterior walls, in order to keep the building in good condition. Financial support is also necessary in this regard.

The Maison du tourisme de Tadoussac's representatives do not feel adequately supported by the Minister of Tourism. Will the Minister listen to Tadoussac's concerns so that the municipality can continue to be an attractive tourist destination?

(33) Mr. Bouazzi (Maurice-Richard) – 24 May 2023
To the Minister of Finance

The Act respecting the implementation of certain provisions of the Budget Speech of 25 March 2021 and amending other provisions (Bill 17) was assented to on 24 February 2022. It amended the Act respecting the Québec Pension Plan (the Act), in particular the application of a penalty on the retirement pensions of disability pension beneficiaries.

This unexpected amendment was part of a bill that amended over 20 legislative texts and was adopted without consultations. Furthermore, this was done at a time when proceedings on this penalty's compliance with the charters were, and still are, being brought before the Administrative Tribunal of Québec, with special consultations on the Québec Pension Plan (QPP) planned the following year.

Before the coming into force of these amendments, the Act reduced by 36% the retirement pensions of people who had received a disability pension between the ages of 60 and 65. This was the same exclusion applied to the retirement pensions of workers who retire early and who start receiving their pension at the age of 60 instead of 65. Since the coming into force of Bill 17, the reduction imposed on the retirement pensions of disability pension beneficiaries remains, although it varies between 18 and 24%. Other measures, which will come into force in 2024, intend to cap the disability pension at 60 years of age, thereby forcing beneficiaries to "choose" an early retirement pension.

This penalty was maintained despite the fact that we are the only jurisdiction in Canada that imposes it and that, in February 2017, the Commission des droits de la personne et des droits de la jeunesse (CDPDJ) published the document “Avis concernant la pénalité à la rente de retraite du RRQ que subissent les personnes qui reçoivent une rente d’invalidité en vertu du même régime”, in which it formally declared the penalty to be discriminatory in nature.

Thus, the QPP deprives affected individuals of almost a quarter of their retirement pension, despite it being established that they are generally no longer able to significantly contribute to the QPP, that disabilities lead to an important reduction in income and that the costs related to the condition of people with disabilities increase as they age. Furthermore, this loss is not compensated, or is compensated only in part, by the Guaranteed Income Security federal programs, despite Retraite Québec’s claims.

In view of the above, my questions to the Minister of Finance are as follows:

- Considering the CDPDJ found that a penalty of 36% on the retirement pensions of people who had received a disability pension between the ages of 60 and 65 was discriminatory, does the Minister deem that it is no longer discriminatory at a rate of 24%?
- Does the Minister acknowledge that this penalty, denounced by the community, by the Office des personnes handicapées du Québec, by opposition parties and by the CDPDJ, is an injustice towards seniors with a severe limitation for employment and who benefit from a disability pension?
- Will the Minister commit to meeting the groups interested in this issue during the hearings which will precede the passage of the bill that will follow up on the consultations held in 2023 on the future of the QPP?
