THAT the National Assembly deplore the fact that, since the beginning of the year, six women were killed by their spouse or former spouse in a context of domestic violence and that it underline the importance of continuing to act with determination to prevent all forms of violence against women;

10 February 2026

THAT it recall that, of the suspects of these six femicides, many had a history of domestic violence;

THAT it reaffirm that domestic violence and femicides are unacceptable and that the safety of women and children must remain a collective priority;

THAT it urge men to seek help so that they never turn to violence;

THAT it reiterate that no woman or child should have to live in fear because she is a woman or a girl;

THAT it recognize that behind each femicide lie thousands of survivors and children co-victims who are counting on us;

THAT it underline that each femicide emphasizes the importance of maintaining our efforts to protect women and children living in a context of violence;

THAT it recognize the essential role of women's shelters and specialized organizations in protecting and supporting survivors and their children;

THAT it applaud the mobilization of workers throughout Québec, in particular those present here today, and that it thank them for their commitment;
