Bill 9

An Act to enhance the regulation of the verification carried out for licence purposes and otherwise amend the Private Security Act

Introduction

Introduced by Mr. Robert Dutil
Minister of Public Security

Québec Official Publisher
2011

EXPLANATORY NOTES

The purpose of this bill is first to enhance the verification that must be carried out in connection with private security licences.

It amends the procedure for the verification carried out by the Sûreté du Québec before the issue, renewal or maintenance of these licences. To that effect, it prescribes that the Sûreté du Québec must inform the Bureau de la sécurité privée of the results of its verification and give its opinion with regard to compliance with the conditions of the Act. It extends the verification to all partners or shareholders of a partnership or a legal person that is a partner or shareholder of the enterprise concerned. It authorizes the Sûreté du Québec to carry out verifications with respect to licence holders at any time during the term of their licence. It also provides that the Minister of Public Security may issue a directive establishing the minimal verification that must be carried out.

It makes various other amendments to the Private Security Act. It divides the locksmith and electronic security systems class of both the agency licence and the agent licence into two separate categories. It also breaks down the electronic security systems class of the agent licence into three sectors of activity, namely, installing, repairing and maintaining, continuous remote monitoring, and technical consulting.

It increases the term for which an agent licence is issued or renewed from three to five years.

It gives the Bureau the power to adjust the annual fees that licence holders must pay according to the verification required. It also empowers the Government to establish by regulation the conditions subject to which the Bureau may recognize training or a training instructor or a training body for the purposes of the Act.

It also amends the Regulation under the Private Security Act in order to adjust the annual fees charged for agent licences and, in the case of applications for the issue or renewal of agency or agent licences, to adjust the fees according to the verification required.

Lastly, this bill contains transitional provisions.
