EXPLANATORY NOTES

This bill amends the Act respecting the Québec Pension Plan, mainly as regards pensions and benefits payable under the Québec Pension Plan.

A person will be able to qualify for a retirement pension at age 60 without having ceased working. An additional amount for disability after retirement is also established. Furthermore, amendments are proposed to the payment of retirement pensions. Thus, the maximum period of 60 months for the retroactive payment of the retirement pension a person over 65 years of age is entitled to but has not applied for is reduced to 12 months. Earnings subsequent to the end of the contributory period may be excluded from the calculation of the additional pension in the case of beneficiaries of a retirement pension who are working and who pay contributions to the Canada Pension Plan.

A person must have paid contributions for at least four of the last six years preceding a disability to be entitled to a disability pension from the age of 60.

Orphan's pensions are increased and the definition of child of the contributor is amended with respect to the payment of an orphan's pension or a disabled contributor's child's pension.

The years of contribution to the pension plan after payment of the retirement pension has begun may be taken into account in determining entitlement to death benefits, and entitlement to death benefits is increased.

Lastly, administrative, consequential and transitional provisions are introduced.

LEGISLATION AMENDED BY THIS BILL:

- Act respecting the Québec Pension Plan (R.S.Q., chapter R-9);
- Supplemental Pension Plans Act (R.S.Q., chapter R-15.1).

2. Section 23.6 of the Act is amended by adding the following paragraph at the end:

“The Board may also, on the conditions it fixes, allow a document to be binding on it or attributed to it without it being signed.”

3. Section 86 of the Act is replaced by the following section:

“86. A child of the contributor is

(a) the contributor’s minor child; or

(b) a minor child who has been residing with the contributor for at least one year and to whom the contributor stands in loco parentis, on the condition that no person other than the contributor, a person residing with the contributor or the father or mother not residing with the child maintains that child in the conditions prescribed by regulation.

The contributor and the person referred to in the first paragraph do not cease to reside together if their separation is only temporary or is a result of illness or the pursuit of studies or any other cause considered valid by the Board.”

4. Section 96 of the Act is amended

(1) by inserting “or of the additional amount for disability after retirement” after “for the purposes of the disability pension” in the second paragraph;

(2) by inserting “or of an additional amount for disability after retirement” after “The beneficiary of a disability pension” in the third paragraph.

5. Section 105 of the Act is amended

(1) by adding “and an additional amount for disability after retirement to the beneficiary of a retirement pension who becomes a qualified disabled contributor” at the end of paragraph a;

(2) by adding “if no retirement pension is payable to him under this Act or under a similar plan” at the end of paragraph e.

6. The Act is amended by inserting the following section after section 105:

“105.0.1. A contributor is qualified for an additional amount for disability after retirement only if

(2) the time granted to cancel his application for a retirement pension has expired;

(3) he is considered disabled under the second paragraph of section 95; and

(4) he paid contributions for at least four of the last six years wholly or partly included in his contributory period.

For the purposes of this section, the contributory period of the contributor ends at the end of the month during which the contributor became disabled. However, no month included between the month prior to the beginning of the retirement pension and the month following the month in which the contributor became disabled may be excluded under the second paragraph of section 101.”

7. Section 106 of the Act is amended

(1) by inserting the following paragraph after the first paragraph:

“However, a contributor 60 years of age or over referred to in the third paragraph of section 95 qualifies for a disability pension only if he paid contributions for at least four of the last six years wholly or partly included in his contributory period.”;

(2) by replacing “the first paragraph” in the second paragraph by “this section”.

8. Section 106.3 of the Act is amended by replacing the first paragraph by the following paragraph:

9. Section 107 of the Act is amended by adding the following paragraphs at the end:

(1) he was entitled, during his contributory period, to a tax credit for a severe and prolonged impairment in mental or physical functions under section 752.0.14 of the Taxation Act (chapter I-3), or to a tax credit or deduction of a similar nature;

(2) he made contributions for at least one fourth of the total number of years wholly or partly included in his contributory period, but for at least three years; and

(3) no retirement pension or disability pension was payable to him under this Act or under a similar plan.

For the purposes of death benefits, a contributor who dies after 31 December 2012 and who has not paid contributions for the number of years required may nevertheless be considered qualified if

(1) he paid at least $500 in contributions; and

10. The Act is amended by inserting the following section after section 107:

“107.0.1. Where a contributor who dies after 31 December 2012 has not paid contributions for the number of years required to qualify for survivors’ benefits under the first and second paragraphs of section 107, the contributions paid for a year subsequent to 1997 and to the end of the contributory period, within the meaning of subparagraph a or b of the first paragraph of section 101, may, for qualification purposes, be substituted, after the second paragraph of section 101 is applied, for the years included in the contributory period for which no contributions were paid. In such a case, the contributor may be considered to have paid contributions for the number of years required if he meets the conditions set out in the first and second paragraphs of section 107.”

11. Section 107.1 of the Act is amended by replacing “section 106 or 106.1 or for the survivors’ benefits under” in the first paragraph by “the first paragraph of section 106 or section 106.1 or for the survivors’ benefits under the first or second paragraph of”.

However, for the year in which the contributory period of the contributor ends in accordance with subparagraph a or b of the first paragraph of section 101, the amount excluded from the total unadjusted pensionable earnings of the contributor for the year concerned is the amount obtained under subparagraph 2 of subparagraph b of the first paragraph of section 98 multiplied by the proportion that the number of months subsequent to the end of the contributory period bears to 12 less the number of months referred to in subparagraph a of the second paragraph of section 101.”

For 2013 and subsequent years, that amount is adjusted in accordance with section 119.”

19. Section 157.1 of the Act is replaced by the following section:

“157.1. When an application is made on or after 1 January 2014, the retirement pension is payable from the latest of the following months:
