Part 5

WRITTEN QUESTIONS

Questions already placed on the Order Paper
are published each Wednesday

- (17) Mrs. David (Gouin) – 10 October 2013
To the Minister of Employment and Social Solidarity:

Last May 28, the Minister of Employment and Social Solidarity announced regulatory changes to the individual and family assistance program and announced her commitment to employment services and to letting no one "fall through the cracks".

According to the departmental document, these changes update the concept of temporarily limited capacity to reflect the current labour market context. They include

- raising the age of eligibility for the monthly $129 temporarily limited capacity allowance from 55 to 58;
- reviewing the eligibility requirements for the monthly $129 temporarily limited capacity allowance in the case of two-adult families caring for a preschooler.

It appears from the document that, from July 1, 2013, all the persons affected by these changes should have been met so that a personalized intervention plan could be proposed to them to facilitate their labour market integration. Measures to attain that goal would have been proposed.

When will the Minister release a comprehensive report, for each of the administrative regions, of the meetings held with the parties concerned by her commitment to employment services and to letting no one "fall through the cracks" arising from the regulatory changes to social assistance?

For each of the regions of Québec, what were the employability processes and employment assistance measures proposed to the persons met within the framework of the commitment to employment services?

(18) Mrs. David (Gouin) – 10 October 2013

To the Minister of Employment and Social Solidarity:

Last May 28, the Minister of Employment and Social Solidarity announced regulatory changes to the individual and family assistance program and announced her commitment to employment services and to letting no one "fall through the cracks", which stated that all the persons affected by these changes should have been met so that a personalized intervention plan could be proposed to them to facilitate their labour market integration.

In the case of young families, until September 30, 2013, recipients will continue receiving the $129 allowance as long as they do not participate in an employability process. As soon as they participate in an employment assistance measure, the temporarily limited capacity allowance can be replaced by an employment assistance allowance of up to $195 a month, according to the document entitled Briser le cycle de la pauvreté par une approche globale et cohérente (breaking the poverty cycle through a global, coherent approach).

For each of the administrative regions:

- How many persons, members of a young family with a preschooler, were met between July 1 and September 30? What percentage does that represent in relation to all the persons concerned by the new regulation?
- What does the Minister intend to do for those persons who still have not been met?
- How many of the persons met accepted to take part in an employment measure or in an employability process?
- How many of the persons met lost their temporarily limited capacity allowance?
- Do the persons who were not met as at September 30 keep their $129 temporarily limited capacity allowance until they have been met and have taken part in an employability process?

- How many persons, as from September 30, received an allowance of $195 per month to take part in an employment assistance measure?
- How many persons accepted to take part in such a measure without it being available as at September 30? In these cases, did they benefit from a $195 allowance as soon as they accepted to take part therein or did they keep the $129 allowance as long as the measure was not available?
- How many of the persons that were met, members of a family with a preschooler, come from immigration? Have specific measures been put in place for these persons, knowing that oftentimes the problem is not one of qualification, but rather of access to employment?

(19) Mrs. David (Gouin) – 10 October 2013

To the Minister of Employment and Social Solidarity:

Last May 28, the Minister of Employment and Social Solidarity announced regulatory changes to the individual and family assistance program. The regulatory changes concerning beneficiaries of 53 and 54 years of age applied from July 1, 2013. The Minister repeated on several occasions that no one would fall through the cracks.

For each of the administrative regions:

- How many persons aged 53 and 54 were met between July 1 and September 30, 2013? What percentage does that represent in relation to all the persons concerned by the new regulation?
- What does the Minister intend to do for those persons who still have not been met?
- How many of them accepted to take part in an employment measure or in an employability process?
- How many of the persons met lost their temporarily limited capacity allowance?
- Did the persons who had not been met by last July 1 keep their $129 temporarily limited capacity allowance until they had been met and had taken part in an employability process?
- How many persons, as from September 30, received an allowance of $195 per month to take part in an employment assistance measure?
- How many persons accepted to take part in such a measure without it being available as at July 1? In these cases, did they benefit from a $195 allowance as soon as they accepted to take part therein or did they keep the $129 allowance as long as the measure was not available?

- What percentage of persons having reached the age of 54 between July 1 and September 30 now only receive the base benefit?

(20) Mr. Bonnardel (Granby) – 5 November 2013

To the Minister of Labour:

In Québec, when a business is sold, its occupational health and safety file is transferred to the new buyer, even if the new buyer is operating under a new business name and Québec business number and even if the former owner continues to operate a similar business under the former business name and former Québec business number.

Can the Minister of Labour explain to us why the accident files of the Commission de la santé et de la sécurité du travail are processed in this manner, which may lead to taking responsibility away from actual offenders and harming the interests of new buyers?

(21) Mr. Bonnardel (Granby) – 5 November 2013

To the Minister of Municipal Affairs, Regions and Land Occupancy:

Under Québec law, tenants who comply with all of the conditions of their lease can stay in their dwelling as long as they wish. This is known as the right to maintain occupancy. There are, however, exceptions to this rule, and repossessing a dwelling is one of them. A landlord who is the owner of an immovable can retake possession of a dwelling in the immovable. A co-owner of an immovable held in undivided co-ownership can also repossess a dwelling on the condition that there is only one other co-owner who is his or her spouse. For example, a brother and sister who are co-owners cannot repossess a dwelling.

Can the Minister of Municipal Affairs, Regions and Land Occupancy explain to us the grounds on which this provision is based and which prevents two co-owning members of the same immediate family from repossessing a dwelling for one or the other's personal use in an immovable that belongs to them?

(22) Mr. Sklavounos (Laurier-Dorion) – 6 November 2013

To the Minister of Natural Resources:

On 22 November 2012, the Premier announced, on the margins of the Council of the Federation, the creation of a Québec-Alberta joint working group to explore the idea of moving oil to Québec.

On 29 May 2013, the National Assembly carried the following motion:

"Concerning Enbridge's Line 9 reversal project, that the National Assembly demand that the Parti Québécois Government take the necessary measures to ensure that the economic, environmental and social analyses, as well as the consultations, are completed by 1 December 2013;

"THAT, in the meantime, all studies and reports produced by the joint committee or at the Québec Government's initiative be made public within fifteen days of their receipt, including the economic report that the Minister of Finance has had for more than a month."

The Government did not follow up on this motion. We therefore ask the Government:

- Have any reports or other documents been produced by the Québec-Alberta joint working group on oil? If so, on what date?
- Did the Minister or a member of his office receive a copy of these reports or other documents? If so, on what date?
- Did the Government of Alberta receive the working group's reports or other documents? If so, on what date?
